

QLM: CROSS CUTTING ISSUES

The College curricula not only lay emphasis on knowledge acquisition, but also focuses on promoting cross-cutting issues.

Gender Equality & Women Empowerment:

Courses on Human Rights and Social Responsibility deal with gender equity, social justice, women's rights and socio-cultural and legal dimensions of gender discrimination.

Environmental Awareness & Sustainability:

Various departments and routinely organize environmental awareness and sustainability programs for medical students focusing on the functions of ecosystems, sustainable agricultural practices, and sustainable energy sources.

Human values:

Curriculum emphasize possessing human traits that enhance building human values Many courses that deal with ethics, human values, and human rights are offered to tone the students with strong moral compass.

Health determinants:

Curriculum exposes students to Income and Social Status, Education and Literacy, Employment and Working Conditions, Social Environments, Physical Environment, Healthy Child Development and Health Services.

Right to health:

The students are educated about issues like the "RIGHT TO HEALTH" of rural populations, and other underprivileged communities.

Demographic Issues:

Teachings focus on demographic concerns such the population growth, the skewed male to female ratio, and the population pyramid. Non communicable diseases are emphasized.

Professional ethics:

Medical malpractice and ethical issues have been covered under various activities annually.